CERTI Measurement Course

This course prepares you to conduct radon and radon decay product measurements. It is presented in a convenient and comprehensive format that allows you to listen to audio CDs, review key points with the course manual, and reinforce the information with online review questions.

The audio CDs include interviews with experts in the radon industry providing you with insight into their experience as well as substantive technological and practical information (interview samples). These courses have proven to be successful and popular in preparing students for the certification exam and for conducting business.

CERTI Mitigation Course

Home-Study Course for Radon Mitigation for individuals that have already completed an approved entry level measurement course. Provides training for installation of radon mitigation systems. If you have not already taken a measurement course, the combined Measurement and Mitigation courses are available at a discounted package rate.

The audio CDs include interviews with experts in the radon industry providing you with insight into their experience as well as substantive technological and practical information (interview samples). This course also includes a two-day mentoring session with a certified mitigator for valuable hands-on experience of installing a mitigation system and performing diagnostics. CERTI coordinates the session to work into your schedule and usually within driving distance of your hometown.

Both Courses Include:

- Audio CDs
- Online Videos and Resources
- Course Manuals
- Online Review Questions
- Downloadable Course Certificates

Courses not available in: Florida, Illinois, New Jersey, and Ohio

Certification Exams: The national certification exam is available online through LaserGrade. You simply register with LaserGrade, find the closest site to you, and schedule your exam.
